Our Seventy-Fourth
Year!

FROM RABBI SAM

What's in a Name

Names carry great power. This has been viewed as a fundamental part of the Jewish world view since the earliest Biblical times. In the second creation story in Genesis — the story that deals with the role of people in God's vision for the world — God gives the earthling (HaAdam) the task of naming all creatures that God has created. Even to this day, we accept this responsibility. Whenever a new species, heavenly object, etc is identified the first order of business is to provide it with a name.

In the ancient world, knowledge of the name of a thing (or person in many old legends) gave the holder of the name power over that object or being. This belief is the basis of the consistent prohibition from knowing or using the holy name of God (written as Yod-Hei-Vav-Hei which we can only traditionally pronounce variously as Adonai, Adoshem, Hashem).

In addition, names were given to children based on hopes for their future, reflection on the circumstances of their birth, and other aspects of the meaning attached to their life situation. When life changed, the name could be changed. Thus Abram became Abraham, Jacob became Israel, and Hoshea was renamed Yehoshua (among others). In more recent times, a seriously ill person might take an additional name (e.g., Chaim or Chaya) as part of a prayer for healing and wellness. A person who converts to Judaism also chooses a Hebrew name as a sign of the change of life circumstance.

Naming of a child, a convert, or any person in a later stage of life is often done in consultation with a Rabbi and celebrated within the community. As a Rabbi, I encourage people to consider the meaning of the name in addition to other factors (naming after a loved one, the sound and feel of the name, etc). I also do suggest that the formal acknowledgement of the name be celebrated in a formal ceremony with family and or community, depending on the needs and desires of the person. I do not say that the name will change the fate of the person or offer any magical/mystical power, as might have been viewed in other times. Rather, I do encourage to consider that names do convey a sense of identity projected to others.

The use of names in an intentional way, as best as we can tell a uniquely human trait, can teach us to strive to make all that we do in life more intentional. To that end, I also strongly encourage parents who name their children not only to name intentionally but to be sure to teach their children why the name had meaning.

Last month I wrote of how we were able to participate as a Temple community to choose the new name for something seemingly so trivial as our new address. Given the opportunity to rename our location identity, we sought to do so with true intentionality. The name of our newly built street is now Olive Meadow Lane for the vision that the olive creates both Biblically and for the modern state of Israel. The number 36 reflects our hope that the life of the Temple will be reinforced for all of our community.

We want our members to know that the Temple is alive and well with a strong vision for the future of the congregation community. We want the greater Dover/Seacoast world to know that we are here for the greater good as best as we can.

The Temple is here for all who seek what we have to offer. But calling oneself a "Member of Temple Israel of Dover" can add to one's sense of identity as a part of community and the people Israel. Consider this as you carry the name with pride and offer the opportunity for others you may know to also become "Temple Israel Member".

Reflection from The Pond, June 15, 2012

Meandering down the path to The Pond, I spotted Rabbi Sam below, seated on a wooden bench, head tipped slightly, hands clasped comfortably across his middle, barefoot. I had an inkling I was about to enter a house of God, nature's sanctuary. This intimate gathering of a dozen or so congregants and friends accompanied by guitar music and the croaking of bullfrogs, welcomed the Sabbath bride.

Please join us for the next Kabbalat Shabbat music and reflection by The Pond on July 20th at 6:30. There are a few benches and blankets available. (Odorless citronella candles kept the bugs away last month!)

Plans for the High Holy Days

- The Ritual Committee has begun planning for the High Holy Days. Please contact Rabbi Sam or Cathi Cherry-Liston if you would like to participate in the services. A more formal appeal via emails and phone calls will be made later this summer.
- Lynne DeSantis will meet with Rabbi Sam to talk about some of Temple Israel's High Holy Day traditions.
- The Yizkor Book, a traditional undertaking of the Ritual Committee, is chaired by Ethlyne Golub. A form will be mailed asking for your updated information and contributions again this year.
- Did you know Temple Israel now has a High Holiday Music Fund? This is a short-term fund raiser. We are in the process of hiring a cantor and professional singers for some of our services. Thank you to Temple Israel Sisterhood for donating the first $200.00.

Welcome New Member

We have not moved

Only our address has changed

We are still at what was formerly 515 Sixth Street. We are now a part of the neighborhood association that includes the owners of all the new houses that have been developed on the lower portion of our former property. With the development of the new houses, came the establishment of a new Dover street: Olive Meadow Lane. Olive has significance in the Torah and in Israel today. We requested and received number 36 (Chai is 18 in the Hebrew numero-letter system of gematria meaning “life” and we are now “double Chai”).

Thus our new address is: 36 Olive Meadow Lane

Our postal mailing address is still:
P.O. Box 254, Dover, NH 03820

Did you know that the Dover Chapter of Hadassah has cards and certificates available for purchase?

Proceeds from the sales of these attractive certificates and lovely cards support Hadassah's many projects and programs in Israel and throughout the world, and the price is right for each certificate and card.

Here is a sample of one of the many cards available:

If you would like to order a greeting card — Bar or Bat Mitzvah, Congratulations or Mazel Tov, Birthday, Get Well, Sympathy, Thank You, Wedding or Holiday (New Year or Rosh Hashanah), or even note cards — let me know.

Certificates can also be purchased to honor or remember a loved one or commemorate a special Simcha, mark a Milestone, or make a Memorial Tribute.

For more information or to order a card or certificate please contact Donna M. Goldfarb (603) 749-3293. It is best to call to talk about how you would like your card prepared, as well as to provide the appropriate addresses. In most cases, cards will be sent out the day they are ordered.
